Fiber Optic Cable Coverage Index

Overview

Tracks and benchmarks fiber development across 81 countries. Includes fiber household coverage, household penetration, business penetration, mobile cell site fiber penetration, total fiber investment, and average download/upload speeds. This analysis helps industry stakeholders, including policymakers, regulators, service providers. Fiber optic cables can be classified using two main methods: Index of refraction variation: Based on how the refractive index changes across the cable's cross-section. Figure 1: Fiber optic cable cross section. Broadband connectivity is an essential tool for accessing communication, information, public services, remote work, online health services and cultural resources. According to the Fibre to the Home/Building (FTTH/B) Market Panorama, the EU39 (27 EU Member States, United Kingdom, 4 CIS countries, Iceland, Israel, North Macedonia, Norway, Serbia, Switzerland, Turkey) reached 70% FTTH/B coverage rate, 244 million homes passed and 121 million FTTH/B subscribers. Ask about ICT infrastructure, broadband data, or interact with the map. Show me range to terrestrial fiber nodes on the map?

Is the ITU building in Geneva Switzerland within 10 km of a fibre node?

Start measuring on the map to see calculations here. Analyze network nodes within a 10 km radius using.
