5610 switch as aggregation

Overview

Built-in with 12-port Gigabit (GBIC) interfaces, the UNIVERGE CX-FH5610E is an ideal aggregation solution for LAN access switches in a converged IP infrastructure. The SN5610 is compatible with standard Ethernet fabric and provides accelerated ethernet to your data center without compromising between performance and feature set. NVIDIA Networking for HPE features configurable 800 GbE ports in a dense 2U form factor and can support up to 128 ports of 400 GbE. Chapter 1 Product Introduction 1. 1 Product Brief Introduction The NX-5610-24F4G uses a new generation of high-performance hardware and software platforms to provide flexible, cost-effective full Gigabit access and uplink ports, support for Layer 3 routing protocols, complete security protection. "High-performance Ethernet switch featuring 64 ports at 800G speeds, with 51. 2 Tb/s throughput for data center scalability. "The Edgecore AS5610-52X hardware switch meets the high-performance, availability, and network-scaling requirements of enterprise and cloud data centers.
